Canadian Diamond Mines

I am Canadian diamonds are more than just a part of our history—they represent a commitment to excellence. With one of the industry's most advanced tracking systems, we ensure that every stone is meticulously traced from mine to market, setting a new standard for transparency and integrity.

A proud statement of origin!

Each Canadian diamond is assigned a unique tracking number the moment it is separated from the rough parcel. Much like a birth certificate, this unique number stays with the stone throughout every stage of its crafting journey. Ultimately, every I Am Canadian diamond is laser-inscribed with its unique identifier, ensuring absolute traceability.

This rigorous tracking system allows us to guarantee with complete certainty that each I Am Canadian diamond is 100% natural, mined in Canada, and has never undergone high-temperature or laser drilling treatments. You can find this unique number printed on your matching Certificate of Origin.

Ethical, Pure, and Proudly Canadian

Canada is a global leader in ethically sourced gold and diamonds, known for strict environmental standards and responsible mining. Canadian diamonds, primarily from the Northwest Territories, are conflict-free, traceable, and valued for their exceptional brilliance. Similarly, the gold mined in Canada meets the highest purity and sustainability standards, ensuring minimal environmental impact.

When combined, Canadian gold and diamonds create jewellery that embodies integrity, craftsmanship, and national pride. Whether for engagement rings or everyday wear, they represent a commitment to beauty, ethics, and the rich natural heritage of Canada.

Our jewellery can be custom-ordered in yellow, white or rose gold and 10, 14, or 18 karat Canadian Certified Gold.

Chains, posts and butterflies are also made with Canadian Certified Gold.
